

Casey Leong, MD

Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

- Emory Fellowship Trained
- Multidisciplinary Pain Medicine
- Adjunct Assistant Professor
- Emory School of Medicine
- Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation

BIO

Dr. Leong is a graduate of Wayne State University School of Medicine in Detroit, Michigan. Following medical school, he completed his general surgery internship at the Detroit Medical Center and then trained in Urology at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia.

Dr. Leong finalized his medical training in Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation at Emory where he focused on interventional pain management, orthobiologics / regenerative medicine, sports medicine, botox, bowel/bladder management, and wound care.

Dr. Leong's goal is to help patients improve quality of life and restoration of function through a comprehensive approach